MURDER IN THE SEVENTH WARD.

A Man's Skull Broken In With a Cart Rung—Four Persons Arrested.

John McLoughlin, aged thirty-eight, no home, was struck on the head last night with a cart rung while he siept in a building in course of construction at No. 48 Monroe street. It appears that he and another man, named Edward McLoughlin, had been drinking together during the evening and had gone in the building to sleep off the effects of the liquor. A noise attracting an officer of the seventh precinct to the spot, he found John McLoughlin suffering from loss of blood through McLoughlin suffering from loss of blood through a wound in the head. He immediately procured assistance and had the man a wound in the head. He immediately procured assistance and had the man conveyed to the station house, where he died a few minutes afterwards. Sergeant Oates, with a number of men. went promptly to the place and arrested Edward McLoughlin, James Cody, McChael Cody and James Murray, who are supposed to be mixed up in the affair. Upon examining the premises, Sergeant Oates discovered large, heavy cart rung, with which the blow that kitled McLoughlin was evidently given. It was stance with blood in several places showing strong evidence of having been recently used. The police say there has been an enmity between these parties for some time past and threats have been freely made on both sides. They are all young men, living in the Seventh ward, and well known to the police. When McLoughlin was brought to the station house every attention was paid him, but to no avail; he expired soon after. Dr. Powell was fortunately on the spot; but his services were useless, as the man was almost dead before assistance could be rendered him. The supposition is that he was struck several times as the cart rung is marked with blood in different places. Scargeant Oates went out at a late hour last night to hunt up evidence in the case and it is probable by this time has found some one who saw the murder committed. Coroner Young has been notified of the occurrence and will hold an inquest this morning.

THE BAPILIST BUGBEAR.

Meeting of the Long Island Baptist As-sociation-Baptist Infallibility Tested-Lively Times for the Port Jefferson and Lee Avenue Baptist Churches-Open Communion Pro and Con.

For two days the Long Island Baptist Associa-tion, comprising the Baptist churches in Brooklyn and throughout the island, have held interesting, and in part exciting, sessions in the Hanson place church, Brooklyn. The sessions opened on Tucsday morning with a sermon by Rev. E. C. Osborn, D. D., after which the Convention organized by slecting Rev. A. G. Lawson, pastor of the Greenood church, as moderator; J. W. Boughton, treasurer, and W. F. Jones, clerk. A letter of welne from the Hanson place church was read, and its condition, spiritually and financially, was presented. It has suffered a loss of ten members during the year. It has 360 Sunday scholars and forty-one teachers, and has raised during the year for church and benevolent purposes $13,977.

Committees were appointed on Arrangements, on Applications for Membership, on Subjects of importance contained in Church Letters, on the State of Religion in the Churches, on Obituaries, on Widows and Orphans' Fund, on Church Property and on Anniversary Arrangements.

Letters were read from Port Jefferson, Huntngton, Oyster Bay and other near and remote parts of the island. The Port Jefferson church, besides its associational letter, sent also another ched in the most defiant language, not, nowever, so much against the Long Island Association as against one or two members of a committee and destroy the character and reputation of its who for two years have tried to injure the church and destroy the character and reputation of its pastor, the Rev. D. F. Jones. The ostensible cause of the hostility of the Association (which endorses the attitude of its committee) to Mr. Jones and his rhurch is that the pastor is not a regular Baptist minister, and the proof they give thereof is the fact that he was for a time pastor of a Presbyterian shurch in Buffalo and a member of the Buffalo Presbytery. Mr. Jones insists that he was still a Baptist, that he did not compromise any of his Baptist principles by his Presbyterian pastorate, which was merely a temporary relation, and was to understood and recognized by the Presbytery, and that through presbytery. Deception and France, which was merely a temporary relation, and was to understood and recognized by the Presbytery, and that through presbytery are the presons unnamed, but referred to make the for many years. The real reason which Mr. Jones gives for hostility to his church and himself as a suit for siander which he instituted against one or more of those persons some time ago, and for which they have followed him with abusive and maligning letters ever since. But their hostility a generally manifested under a mask, while they profess the most cordial friendship for him, and even sign recommendations for him to churches where he has been called. He was a pastor in Brooklyn for twelve years, and he says he defies any one to put a finger on any act of his that was stiler ungentlemanly or unministerial. Several aelegates, however, thought the letter was too inmitting to be read, and motions were twice made to arrest its reading; but the love of fair play of the majority prevailed, and the reading was completed. But thereupon Mr. Folwell, of the Second church, growling a proper the association to with sitier ungentiemanly or nuministerial. Several selegates, however, thought the letter was too insulting to be read, and motions were twice made to arrest its reading; but the love of fair play of the majority prevalled, and the reading was completed. But thereupon Mr. Folwell, of the Second church, Brooklyn, E. D., moved the association to withdraw the hand of fellowship from The Fort Inference on the convention taking their advice, on motion of Dr. Osborn, appointed desars. Richardson, Banden, Linde and Whittle a committee to investigate and report before the close of the session. In the evening a general meeting was held in the interest of the missionary and other work of the association, at which Drs. Anderson, More. Folwell and Benedict and others delivered address.

Three sessions were held yesterday. In the morning reports were presented by some of the committees previously appointed. Resolutions, acfining the status of delegates as simply messengers of churches and not really representatives, were adopted, and authorizing the Moderator to tall any speaker to order who uses personalities in his address, and also to arrest the reading of any paper containing such references. A report, touching the standing of the Lee avenue church, which recited that its pastor, the Rev. J. Hyatt Smith, had departed from the Baptist faith, and had published a statement in 1871, that two-thirds of his church held with him open communion sentiments, which statement had never been contradicted by said church; therefore the report called for a committee of five to investigate the case and to report to the association at its next annual meeting. This brought Mr. Smith to the platform, and he stated his own platform and that of his church in which they are emphatically endorsed. Mr. Smith's creed is substantially immersion. the only baptism necessary to communion; but he would not disturb any Christian at the Lord's table about whose baptism he had any doubt, nor if he knew that such commitment to say that his church is sincerit and, "We delly your suttern, bower."

A Mr. Brown, of the First Baptist church, wanted his church included in the committee's inquiries, since, as he deciared, there are more than 300 open communionists in that society, the names of more than 200 of whom, including four trustees, he had on record. It came out, also, in the discussion that Very largely in the denomination included in the long island association. The Convention took a recess for lunch, which was amply provided for all in the lecture room adjoining. After lunch the association went to Van Buren street and Green avenue, near Throop, where the Baptist Home is being erected, and there Dr. Sarles laid the corner stone, and snort addresses were made by Drs. Sarles, Fulton, Galusha, Anderson and others. One story of one wing only has been put up yet. Subscriptions come in slowly, and the Board of Management are in need of funds to complete this portion of the building by January, 1874.

The Convention came together again in session at jour of-clock, when among the reports was one presented recommending the withdrawal of the association's hand of Jellowship from the Port Jeferson church. But this, too, like that of Lee avenue church, after much debate, amendments to and substitutes offered was, with the Port Jeferson church letter, referred to a new committee, into the case and report to the association at its

WELCOME TO MISS CLARA BARTON.

Last evening, Miss Ciara Barton, the American Florence Nightingale, was welcomed home again after an absence of iour years in Europe, at the private residence of Mrs. Dr. Clemence S. Lozier, No. 361 West Thirty-tourth street. Miss Barton, who has been a ministering angel in the hospitals and on the battlefields of the late civil war, was also, during the Francoof the kindness and sympathies of woman's nature to the sufferers of the conflict which closed in terrible darkness at Sedan. Among those present at the reception, which was given in the elegant parlors of Mrs. Dr. Lozier, were Mrs. Francis D. parlors of Mrs. Dr. Lozier, were Mrs. Francis D. Gage, who had charge of 3,000 slaves during the war on one of the sea islands near Hitton Head; Dr. Frederick Marvin, Miss Phoebe Cousins, of St. Louis; Miss Martha J. Lamb, Mrs. Dr. M. F. Mann, Miss Jennie Collins, of "Boffin's Bower," Boston; Andrew Jackson Dawis, Mrs. Lillie Devereux Blake, Mme. Clara Brinkerhof, Mrs. Wilcox, Mary F. Davis, Mrs. Dr. Gibert, J. K. H. Wilcox, and a number of other ladies and gentlemen. It was a very brilliant assemblage, and the greeting given to Miss Barton was of the warmest and most enthusiastic nature. Addresses were made by Mrs. Lillie Devereux Blake, Mr. J. K. H. Wilcox, Mrs. Frances D. Gage, in response to the call made upon Miss Clara Barton, who was unable to speak, owing to the latigue of her voyage home on the Parthia, by Miss Jennie Collins, Congressman Mellish and Miss Phoebe Cousins. Miss Barton read a touching and tender poem, and at the conclusion of the format ceremonies the assembly became informal in its nature and all present congratulated Miss Barton personally. A magnificent bed of flowers with the word "Welcome" was presented to the guest of the evening by the kind hostess, Mrs. Dr. Lozier, and at the hour of midnight the party broke up after having partaken of an elegant collation. Miss Barton will go home to Worgester, Mass., atter she has made a snort stay in this city.

SCHE JENNIE WOOD (Br), at Havana on the 12th inst from New Orleans, encountered the late gale during the night of 5th and 6th; lost deckload of lumber and received slight damage to hull.

ceived slight damage to hull.

Capt Chase, of schr Hattie Perry, from Philadelphia for New Bediord, réports—Lett Delaware Breakwater Oct 5: on the atternoon of the 6th took a heavy squall from the N; put the vessel before it and ran until the 10th, when we shipped a sea, losing the centreboard and hont, also washing the man away from the wheel, but succeeded in saving him. The cabin and forecastle being full of water, threw overboard about 20 tons coal to lighten the vessel. The weather then moderating, were enabled to shape our course for New York, at which port arrived 18th.

port arrived Ish.

Advices from Guantanamo report that the damage to the shipping in that port by the late hurricane have been less than anticlated at first. Bark Evening Star (Br) and schr Johannes (Ger), both almost completely loaded, were grounded, and it proved necessary to discharge them in order to put them afford again. Injuries to bottoms were of slight importance. One Spanish brig was also thrown to the shore.
